

Shweta Bhatt, MD

Treasurer and founding member of the Board of Trustees

Medical Imaging Partnership

Dr. Bhatt is an Assistant Professor of Radiology at University of Rochester School of medicine. She completed a fellowship training in Cross Sectional Imaging under Dr Vikram Dogra with special research and interest in diagnostic and Interventional ultrasound.

Dr. Bhatt has published more than 60 journal articles and has presented her research work at many national radiology meetings. She has also been the guest editor of two Ultrasound Clinics issues, one Radiologic Clinics issue, published by Elsevier Science. She has contributed many book chapters on various ultrasound topics and genitourinary radiology in textbooks.

She is an active member of AIUM and has actively participated in interventional and intraoperative section, and other activities of the society. She participates as a reviewer of scientific abstracts, as faculty and moderator in intraoperative ultrasound workshops, and a speaker in the categorical course. She is also actively involved in teaching medical students at the University of Rochester.

Dr. Bhatt is a founding member of the board of Medical Imaging Partnership and has in depth understanding of the disparities in health care provision around the globe. Her insight into the imaging needs of developing nations is a great asset to the mission of the Partnership.